Political Scientist

PROFILE

I am a dynamic management professional with advanced knowledge in general management disciplines based on national standards. I have gathered more than four years of experience in pathology administration and the establishment of a quality assurance system in Germany. I have proven my ability to use strategy power when organisational changes are needed and I have got a strong record of improving operational efficiencies. Currently I lead two small teams both within DGP and QuIP.

WORK EXPERIENCE

2017 | Senior Consultant QuIP GmbH

When QuIP's legal status was transformed in February 2016 I took over the position of CEO besides my main activities as Secretary General of DGP until September 2017. Since then I continued working as Senior Consultant and I remained in charge of single projects/studies and proficiency tests in immune histochemistry as well as molecular diagnostics like TMB or ROS1.

2013 | Secretary General German Society of Pathology

The German Society for Pathology (DGP) is the scientific association of pathologists in Germany with the aim to promote the discipline in all of its relevant aspects. Besides conventional diagnostics, there is a strong focus on basic science as well as R&D in the field of molecular diagnostics and molecular pathology. The society comprises approx. 1.000 members, mainly from academic institutions. I am not only responsible for the organization of conferences, of publishing journals and of awarding prizes for outstanding scientific achievements but also for internal and external communication.

2005 | Managing Director DVT e.V.

From 2005 until 2011 I served as Managing Director of the German Umbrella Association of Technical and Scientific Societies (DVT) and built up the new Berlin headquarters after relocation from Dusseldorf. DVT consists of some 60 non-profit organisations from all fields of technical science like engineering, information technology, and transportation. In this position I also joined the European Monitoring Committee (EMC), in which the EUR ING certificate was granted, as Deputy Chairman.
